One senior and four sophomores moved forward from first team last year to an improved team this year. A sophomore guard was added to the varsity team and the girls increased in skill and capabilities with each game. Winning 15 games and losing 10, the girls finished third in the district and looked good. Two of the girls, Mary Ehrig and Dianne Hammer, made second team in the Maple Valley Conference.

Homecoming

KING AND QUEEN: Merritt Wiese and Jean Conover. FIRST ATTENDANTS: Allen Conover and Mary Ann Ehrig. SECOND ATTENDANTS: John DeSutter and Linda Cronin. Crown Bearers: Matthew Waller and Dana Schmidt.

Our Homecoming festivities started on Thursday evening with the Coronation Ceremony. First on the agenda was a pep meeting led by the cheerleaders, followed by three skits by the underclassmen. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of our King and Queen, Merritt and Jean, after the Royalty's procession through the candle-lit column formed by the Concert Choir.

Friday afternoon, the classes were dismissed early in order for all to see the parade. This was a new project in the High School and proved to add to the festivities. Several weeks ahead of Homecoming the classes got together and planned their class floats. There were six floats in all; one representing each class, one for the Royalty by the cheerleaders, and one from the Alumni. The band led the parade up Maple Street and through town.

The finale of the events was the game at night. We hosted Woodbury Central and won with the final score of 7-6.

GROTHAUS DAIRY SWEET AND GRIFFIN PHARMACY

GIRLS: Sandy Eriksen (Mrs. Boyle), Laura Larson (Mollie Ralston), Dianne Hammer (Miss Casewell).

THE MOUSETRAP, by Agatha Christie, was a British thriller which centered around a frantic search for an homicidal maniac who was one of eight persons snowbound in an English guesthouse. Several of the guests qualified as the suspected murderer, and the terror mounted as the policeman on the case could find no positive clues to the killer's identity. The plight worsened when it was discovered that the telephone wire connecting the guesthouse to the outside world had been cut. At the end of the first act Mrs. Boyle, an elderly guest was murdered. The rest of the play dealt with the capture of the criminal. The play was directed by Mrs. Buck.

"Now, Mrs. Ralston, try and think—THINK . . ."

Third Row: Paul Fell (Ed), Gary Albers (Mr. Sycamore), Gail Gebers (Boris Kolenkhov), Dan Doxtad (Grandpa Vanderhof), Rick Williams (Tony Kirby).

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU" by Moss Hart and George Kaufmann was a comedy centered around the strange hobbies of the Sycamore family. Martin Vanderhof, the grandpa who spends his free time going to Commencement exercises at Columbia University, hasn't worked for quite a few years. His daughter Penny writes plays and stories while her husband, Mr. Sycamore, works down in the basement making fireworks. Mr. De Pinna is a partner of Mr. Sycamore's who helps him work. Phela is the Negro maid whose boyfriend Donald spends much of his time at the Sycamore house. The ballet teacher Boris Kolenkhov is a Russian who has been instructing Mr. and Mrs. Sycamore's daughter Essie for eight years. Essie's husband Ed types messages of any kind to put in the candy Essie makes, which he sells. Mr. Hendersen works for the government and appears on the scene trying to collect unpaid taxes from Grandpa. Complications occur when the youngest daughter of the Sycamores, Alice, starts to marry Tony Kirby. Tony's father owns the business where Alice works. Tony's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby, can't tolerate the oddities of the Sycamore family. Olga Katrina is a Russian woman who lives in the United States. The three policemen enter the play in the third act. The play was directed by Mrs. Buck.
